

PETERSBURG

ENTIRE CITY RESPONDS

GENEROUSLY TO APPEAL

More Than $1,000 Already Collected, and Will Be Forwarded to Belgian Relief Committee.

STATE WORK IS UNDER WAY

Charles T. Lassiter To-Day Will Begin Collection of Supplies From Fourth District—Negroes in Tangled Melée.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] PETERSBURG, VA., November 15.—The fund raised in this city for the relief of the Belgian sufferers, under the supervision of Miss Mary T. Patterson, of the city, will be closed to-morrow after the receipt of collections for the fund made to-day in several Sunday-schools. The fund up to last night amounted to $1,134. These contributions were all voluntary, not an individual having been solicited for a donation. This money will be forwarded through the National Relief Association in New York. To-morrow the work of the Petersburg committee, appointed by Charles T. Lassiter, district chairman, in connection with the State movement for relief, will be begun. John O'Connor, general secretary of the National Relief Association, is in charge of the collection of donations and for storage of all donations of food and clothing supplies. The committee is in the morning, prepared to receive work. Already notice has been given of contributions to be sent in on the first day. The county committees throughout the district are expected to organize and begin work this week. Colonel H. M. Boykin, chairman of the State committee, was in the city yesterday, in consultation with Mr. Lassiter, and expressed gratification at the promptness with which the collection for relief work had been perfected in Petersburg and the South-side.

Death of Wilson Jones.

Announcement of the accidental killing of Wilson B. Jones, of Petersburg, brought by telegraph Saturday evening, and published in to-day's Dispatch, was a shock to his relatives, and many friends in this city. He was engaged in the construction of a bridge at Monroe, Mass., for the Boston and Maine Railroad, and at the time was superintending the removal of rocks after the bridge had been built, and the heavy weight fell upon and crushed Mr. Jones to death. Mr. Jones had nearly completed the bridge when the accident occurred. The bridge construction company, and would soon have returned to Petersburg for the winter. The body will be brought home for burial. He is survived by his parents, Dr. and Mrs. F. H. Jones, of this city; two sisters, Mrs. J. Powell Watson and Miss Maria Jones, and one brother, Robert C. Jones, all of Petersburg. He was about 40 years of age, and widely and favorably known in the city.

A Mixed-Up Affair.

Three colored men, Phil Godsey, Floyd Godsey and William Bryant, and a colored woman, Sophy Ingram, were arrested by the police last night for implication in a disorderly proceeding in a house on Gill Street. It seems that the Godseys and the Ingram woman attacked and were beating a negro woman, when Bryant, a friend of the latter, interfered in her defense, drawing his pistol. In the melee the pistol was fired, accidentally as Bryant claims, and the ball struck the woman he was endeavoring to protect. In the head, it glanced off, inflicting only a scalp wound. She was struck with an ax by her assailants, and was more injured thereby than by the pistol ball. The police justice will try to straighten out the affair to-morrow morning.

Brief Notes.

Mrs. Charlotte Muse died this morning at her home near Swift Creek, in Chesterfield County. Cause of death, pneumonia. To inquire into the sanity of three persons were held to-day. Two of the patients were discharged, and the third, a white woman, was committed to the State hospital at Williamsburg.

Announcements Received.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] LYNCHBURG, VA., November 15.—Announcements have been received here of the engagement of Miss Persia Purcell, of Portsmouth, O., to J. Doniphan Owen, of this city. The wedding will take place at Portsmouth, December 1. The prospective groom is assistant cashier of the First National Bank of Lynchburg.

SITUATION IN MEXICO

PUZZLING TO OFFICIALS

Dispatches Received by State Department Leave Administration in Doubt as to What is Going On. WASHINGTON, November 15.—Puzzling but apparently significant dispatches from Mexico received to-day by the State Department left officials very much in doubt as to what is going on in the Southern republic. The first, a consular dispatch from Aguascalientes, announced that General Gutierrez, named the convention of Provisional President Carranza's retirement as first chief of the Constitutionalists within twenty-four hours. The second from Consul Silliman in Mexico City, stated the impossibility of a peaceful settlement of the differences between Carranza and the Aguascalientes convention were broken at any time since the breach occurred. General Blanco, commanding the Carranza forces in Mexico City, Mr. Silliman said, advised him that an agreement binding the Carranza forces to adjust their differences without further hostilities were confidently expected.

Advices from Aguascalientes said Gutierrez had informed Carranza that a definite answer to his demand for Carranza's resignation by Sunday night, a general movement by him would obtain.

MACLACHLAN SAYS THERE IS NO GRAFT IN POLICE FORCE

It is well known that there is a lot of graft in the police force in this city. It is equally well known that in the morning, prepared to receive work. Already notice has been given of contributions to be sent in on the first day. The county committees throughout the district are expected to organize and begin work this week. Colonel H. M. Boykin, chairman of the State committee, was in the city yesterday, in consultation with Mr. Lassiter, and expressed gratification at the promptness with which the collection for relief work had been perfected in Petersburg and the South-side.

WHY ARE GAMBLERS ALLOWED TO GO FREE?

"Then, again, why is it that when gambling houses are raided only the gamblers are arrested and the players, if they be of prominence, are let go? Why are they not arrested? That, I believe, is the practice. Why? Can it be that the police are brought to hear—somehow, I am not sure, but I believe it is—being made between rich and poor in their standing before the law? We have heard stories—not of course, in this city, but of certain other places being raided and prominent men being let go scot free. The woman who has no reputation must be punished, but the man's reputation must be preserved at all costs."

"I am not making any charges. I am not indulging in indiscriminate criticism. On the contrary, I believe that the police force of Richmond is one of the best in the South. I have ever known—both in my personal and official life—the charge of graft was recently made against them. I do not believe it. There may be individual men on the force who can be bribed, but the force as a whole is honorable, clean and capable. We have not, thank God, so far in Richmond the conditions that make for at least organized graft. May we never have them in this city!"

POLICY OF SEGREGATION

"In this connection I want publicly to correct a statement reported recently in the newspapers that the Ministerial Association approved the policy of segregation. There is not a word of truth in it. I was a member of the committee that the year ago conferred with the Police Board on that very question, and our position was that we condemned the segregation policy root and branch, but we did not make certain more stringent regulations, such as the elimination of liquor selling and the forbidding of piano and phonograph music in these places. I cannot understand how any member of the Police Board could have so misinterpreted our attitude on that question. We knew it was a difficult question, and we took the position that if the board were not prepared to stop it altogether there were certain restrictions imperatively demanded, such as the closing of the stores within a certain radius of the churches for a given time before and after services, the delivery of goods on Sunday, etc. In this matter our hands were tied by the knowledge that our own church members were not as careful as they might be to discourage Sunday trading and Sunday deliveries."

WHAT HAS BECOME OF MAYOR'S COMMISSION?

"What has become of the commission which the Mayor appointed to investigate vice conditions in the city? I have not heard of any recent activity on their part. It is, on the whole, a good commission, and might bring in valuable findings looking to a more or less permanent solution of the problem. What is trying to hinder it? Even if the city government has refused them an appropriation, is there not something they could do without an appropriation? I believe if they could show some progress made the appropriation could later on be obtained."

"Let me close with two thoughts which I believe may prove constructive. The first is that the police can do much to prevent certain forms of evil by the keeping the protecting arm of the law round unprotected girls on our streets at night. The joy-riding automobiles should be carefully watched. The moving picture shows should be diligently policed. Young girls concerning whom there is any doubt in their minds should be told to go home, and even escorted home when in danger. There is not a man on the force—certainly not a family man—who will not do the utmost to co-operate. Something is already being done under the initiative, I believe, of the Chief of Police. Could not a permanent policy of protection be outlined, so that the streets of our city shall be safer places for a young girl to walk at night? I know the ultimate blame too often lies with careless parents and bad home conditions, but the police can help much. I hope the time is soon coming when one or two women will be added to the police force, whose special duty it shall be to look after just such cases."

"In the second place, I hope that when the reconstruction of the Police Court takes place necessitated by the new annexed area, it may be the policy of the Council to establish a separate juvenile and domestic relations court in pursuance of the act passed at the last session of the Legislature. The bringing of over 50,000 inhabitants to establish such a court. This would mark a great step in advance for the improvement of the morals of the city."

FIGHT IN ORGANIZATION

REACHES CLIMAX TO-DAY

Suffrage Association and Congressional Union to Consider Questions of Policy.

SECRET CONFERENCES HELD

Politics Keeps Many of Delegates Busy Throughout Sunday—Matters Supposed Settled Not Decided to Full Satisfaction of Delegates.

NASHVILLE, TENN., November 15.—The climax of the struggle between the National American Woman Suffrage Association and the Congressional Union, a suffrage organization which was formed by the merger of the two national associations, met here to-day at the national association's annual convention. Politics kept many of the delegates busy occupied to-day, although the convention was not in session.

There were a number of secret conferences on questions of policy, national officers and other inside affairs of the association held by leaders of the administration element and by adherents of the faction in opposition. One of the results of the conferences was the drafting of a resolution by Mrs. George W. Bass, of Chicago, which it is expected, will be presented to the convention to-morrow. This proposed resolution, which prominent delegates stated likely would bring to a climax the fight between the association and the Congressional Union, reads as follows:

"Whereas, the rapidly increasing number of States granting suffrage, and the consequent crystallizing of women among nonpartisan lines or into party activities, make a declaration of policy as a national suffrage association necessary and expedient; therefore, be it resolved, that the National American Woman Suffrage Association be abstained from any political party responsible for the opinions and acts of its individual members, or holding any individual responsible for the majority action of its party on the question of suffrage."

EXCITING SESSION

TO-DAY IS INDICATED

Indications to-night were that to-morrow may witness one of the most exciting sessions of the present convention.

Some of the matters which many of the delegates are expected to be settled by the convention, including the scope and methods of work, and the national association's authority over State organizations, judging from late developments, however, will not be the full satisfaction of a number of delegates.

The executive council on the opening day adopted a resolution which declared the association to be nonpartisan in national politics, and defined nonpartisan to mean the association should attack no political party, but should conduct its campaigns only against individual Congressmen or candidates according to their records on suffrage.

It was reported to-night that one element in the convention favors a definite declaration by the association prohibiting a national State organization from working contrary to the national association's policy. Such a prohibition, it is said, would have the effect of barring any State organization from the suffrage movement, and the Congressional Union, which has openly declared opposition to the Democratic party, from employing the union or its method of work in the State campaigns, with the alternative that the recalcitrant association would lose its membership in the national body.

SPEAKERS TAKE ISSUE WITH BISHOP KILGO

Do Not Agree With His Ideas as to Teaching of Brotherhood of Man.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] PORTSMOUTH, VA., November 15.—Bishop Kilgo's sermon at the morning service of the Virginia State Conference, which is being held in Monumental Church, brought the audience to a high pitch of religious fervor. Another dramatic feature of the day was the public expression by speakers at the afternoon mass-meeting of disagreement with the stand taken by Bishop Kilgo in regard to keeping religion clear of the teaching and practice of the brotherhood of man.

One of the speakers, T. S. Southgate, made it plain, however, that no personal ill-feeling was held toward the bishop, but that all members of the conference loved him and regarded him as an asset.

Worn out by a strenuous week, Bishop Kilgo to-night took to his bed with his doctor's orders to stay there at least twenty-four hours. He said he would preside at to-morrow's conference sessions if he could get there.

Another feature of the day was the ordination by the bishop of the seven deacons who were admitted to deacon's orders by the conference on Saturday. Those admitted to orders were C. C. Bell, Arden W. Lintum, John D. Peters, P. D. Stevens, W. A. Orser, James E. Avery. The young men were asked the formal questions by the bishop and read the formal instructions by Rev. T. McN. Simpson.

Bishop Kilgo in the morning preached the strongest sermon he has yet delivered to the conference. He once more took occasion to rap the idea of the brotherhood of man, and also the idea of sociological religion, and he never left his chief theme for long at a time.

To-morrow night the conference will resolve itself into a session of thanksgiving for the prohibition victory in September. Rev. Ashbury Christian, of the Union Station Methodist Episcopal Church, Richmond, will be one of the principal speakers.

NEWS OF ASHLAND

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] ASHLAND, VA., November 15.—The historical meeting of the Confederate Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, will be held at the home of Mrs. Walter Sydnor, Misses Ruth Blakey and Elsie Cardwell, who represent the chapter, at the place at the convention held in Savannah, Ga., last week, will also give in their reports.

Mrs. D. H. Midyette has gone to Washington. Miss Ruth Sublett, of Richmond, was recently the guest of Mrs. Overton Howard. Miss Rebecca Stebbins is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Charles Stebbins. Miss Mary Hutcheson, of King William County, spent the week-end with Miss Katherine. A meeting will be held at the parish house on Tuesday, November 17, at 11 A. M., for the purpose of forming a sewing club. The members of this club will make clothing for the women and children in Belgium. All the women in Ashland are invited to attend. Rev. James Duncan is the guest of his sister, Mrs. R. E. Blackwell. Mrs. and Mr. Charles L. Bridges and children have returned from a month's visit to General and Mrs. James Macgill, at their home near Gwathmey.

AMUSEMENTS

Academy—Motion picture, "Neptune's Daughter," featuring Annette Kellerman, matinee and night. Colonial—Gracie Scott Company, in "Mary Jane's Pa." Empire—Lucille La Verne Company in "The Man of the Hour." Lyric—Popular vaudeville, matinee and night. Bijou—"The Girls From Joyland," burlesque.

At the Theatre To-Day. For the first three days of this week, the Academy of Music becomes a picture house, for the display, both in the afternoon and evening, of that famous film, "Neptune's Daughter," in which Annette Kellerman appears as the swimming and diving marvel of the day, the most perfect exponent of female form divine, and as a clever actress, dancer and swordsman. This great picture was exhibited here once before, when the demand for it was so great that its engagement was extended for several days beyond the week for which it had been booked.

At the Colonial Theatre, the Gracie Scott Company will be seen throughout the week in "Mary Jane's Pa." which will thus be given its first presentation in Richmond. The play, a comedy drama by Edith Killa, provided Henry E. Dixey with the most successful vehicle of his career, with the exception of "Adonis"—of other days.

The Lucille La Verne Company presents at the Empire Theatre one of the most famous dramas of the last ten or fifteen years—"The Man of the Hour," by George Broadhurst. The piece will be produced for Miss La Verne by James H. Marcus, who was the original Horrihan.

Two exceptionally good bills, with several features of a decidedly unusual character, are promised by the management of the Lyric Theatre, which set a pace last week rarely attained by popular vaudeville.

Advance notices of "The Girls From Joyland," which will be seen at the Bijou Theatre all the week, earnestly contend that the offering is a musical comedy, rather than a burlesque show. It is fair to assume, however, that the performance will be so completely and restrictively to please the Bijou's patrons.

Returns to China.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] LYNCHBURG, VA., November 15.—Miss Pearl Sydenstricker, who graduated last summer from Randolph-Macon Woman's College, has started upon her return to China to join her parents, who are Presbyterian missionaries in that country. Miss Sydenstricker had been here four or five years.

GOVERNMENT GUARANTEE OF ADVANCES ARRANGED

LONDON, November 15.—To facilitate the opening of the Liverpool Cotton Exchange the government, in consultation with directors of the Liverpool Cotton Association and the Liverpool banks, has arranged for government guarantees of advances made to merchants by the banks. Those desiring advances will have to disclose their affairs and their books to the banks. The guarantee is to apply only to advances, with the exception of advances of a penny per pound downwards, which the merchants may have paid or may still have to pay in respect to future contracts. All advances are to be repaid within a definite period after the termination of the winter.

NO THANKSGIVING DINNER, THAT BELGIANS MAY HAVE FOOD

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] LYNCHBURG, VA., November 15.—Contributions raised here thus far for the Belgium relief work aggregate $153.22. The students at Randolph-Macon Woman's College have asked the college to eliminate the usual Thanksgiving Day dinner at the college, and to donate the money saved to this fund. In addition to this, the college girls have sent contributions direct to New York amounting to about $200.

NEW POLICEMEN MAKE

THEIR FIRST ARRESTS

Fifteen Men Tramp Beats Undismayed in Driving Rain.

FEAR POLICE COURT ORDEAL

Those Making Arrests Must Face Cross-Questioning of Shrewd Attorneys, Anxious to Trip Them Up. Matthews Makes Record.

Richmond's latest additions to the police force, fifteen strong, have now performed just twenty-four hours of active duty as guardians of the city's peace. During that length of time they have experienced almost all of the possible changes in weather, some of them have had occasion to impress a section of the public with the fact that they are now in the possession of a real authority, while others have spent the long weary hours of a night beat in simply "beating the flagging." S. S. Matthews, of the Second Precinct, was the first of the new men to make an arrest of any importance. He figured in the arrest of Lelia Ford, colored, who is charged with being the woman who cut Henry Strange through the lip Saturday night and left the man on the street with an excellent chance of bleeding to death. Strange fought Ambulance Surgeon Gorman when he attempted to treat him and had to be arrested and taken to the Second Precinct Station, where he was handcuffed and bound across a table before the surgeon was able to sew up the cut. Matthews also arrested Pat Dickinson on a charge of assaulting and beating Susie Johnson.

C. H. Deskins and F. C. Williams, also of the Second Precinct, made their first arrests when they each locked up men on charges of being drunk and disorderly on the street. D. W. Duling was the only new man in the First District to make an arrest during his first twenty-four hours as an officer. He assisted Patrolman Waldrop in arresting F. S. Waller late Saturday afternoon. Waller was charged with being a vagrant.

The latest additions to the force appeared undismayed yesterday and last night when relieved from duty, after spending almost the entire length of time walking the streets in a steady downpour. They were not discouraged by those with their first experience, but those who had made arrests seemed to fear their first appearance in Police Court much more than any watch which could come their way in the line of duty.

DOUBLE MORAL STANDARD

ARRAIGNED BY SPEAKER

Mrs. Ella A. Boole, Before W. C. T. U., Declares It One of Social Plagues' Greatest Boons.

ATLANTA, GA., November 15.—Arrangement of different moral standards for men and women marked the address here to-day of Mrs. Ella A. Boole, Ph. D., of New York, before the national convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union.

"The double moral standard is one of the social plagues' greatest boons," said Mrs. Boole, who is president of the New York branch of the National Temperance organization. "It is ruinous for man to observe one code of morals, and woman a different one. 'It is up to woman to see to it that man observes the same morals she does. Why should man be given moral liberties that are denied a woman, when, in truth, woman is the sustaining element in all morals?'"

The speaker predicted national prohibition of the manufacture and sale of intoxicants by 1920, and universal prohibition within a comparatively few years. The European war, she said, would be an aid to the prohibition struggle on that Continent. The recent decision of Russia for prohibition was pointed out in support of the latter opinion.

Various other speakers addressed three sessions of the convention here to-day on prohibition topics.

INJUNCTION WILL BE ASKED AGAINST CITY

object to the city closing in the sewer down the natural ravine through the land owned by his company. CITY MAY BE FORCED TO BUILD WILEX EXTENSION

The Highland Park sewerage system was constructed out of the proceeds of a bond issue which the city was called on to assume in the annexation agreement. It was stated last night that in the event of the petitioners being successful in their petition the city would be forced to continue the sewer for approximately 6,000 feet, or nearly a mile, and empty it into Shook Creek, money for the partial walling in of which has already been provided.

Members of the Administrative Board, who were informed of the proposed litigation last night, said that it was merely another of the problems growing out of annexation which must be calmly met and worked out in connection with the city's general plans for future development. They did not see that the sanitary conditions at this particular point were greatly worse on November 8, after annexation took effect, than they were on November 4, when it was the town of Highland Park, and not the city, which was responsible for the alleged nuisance. Agreeing with the general policy of covering over all streams into which large sewers empty, through to the river, a policy the city adopted in providing by bond issue for the walling in of Shook Creek, they were not willing to admit that conditions in this particular ravine were imminent, or that there was any reason for deviating from a general and fixed policy of covering over all streams along lines designed to serve the whole city.
